INCLUDED IN THIS PACKET:

2 Arcs de 212.5° by Bernar Venet

Bernar Venet's 2 Arcs de 212.5° – also known as "the Red C" – is typical of this French artist's minimalist work in curved, mathematically precise metal. Seemingly precariously balanced, this work, like his others, reflects the artist's love of mathematics and his process of adapting material, form, balance, and spatial perception.

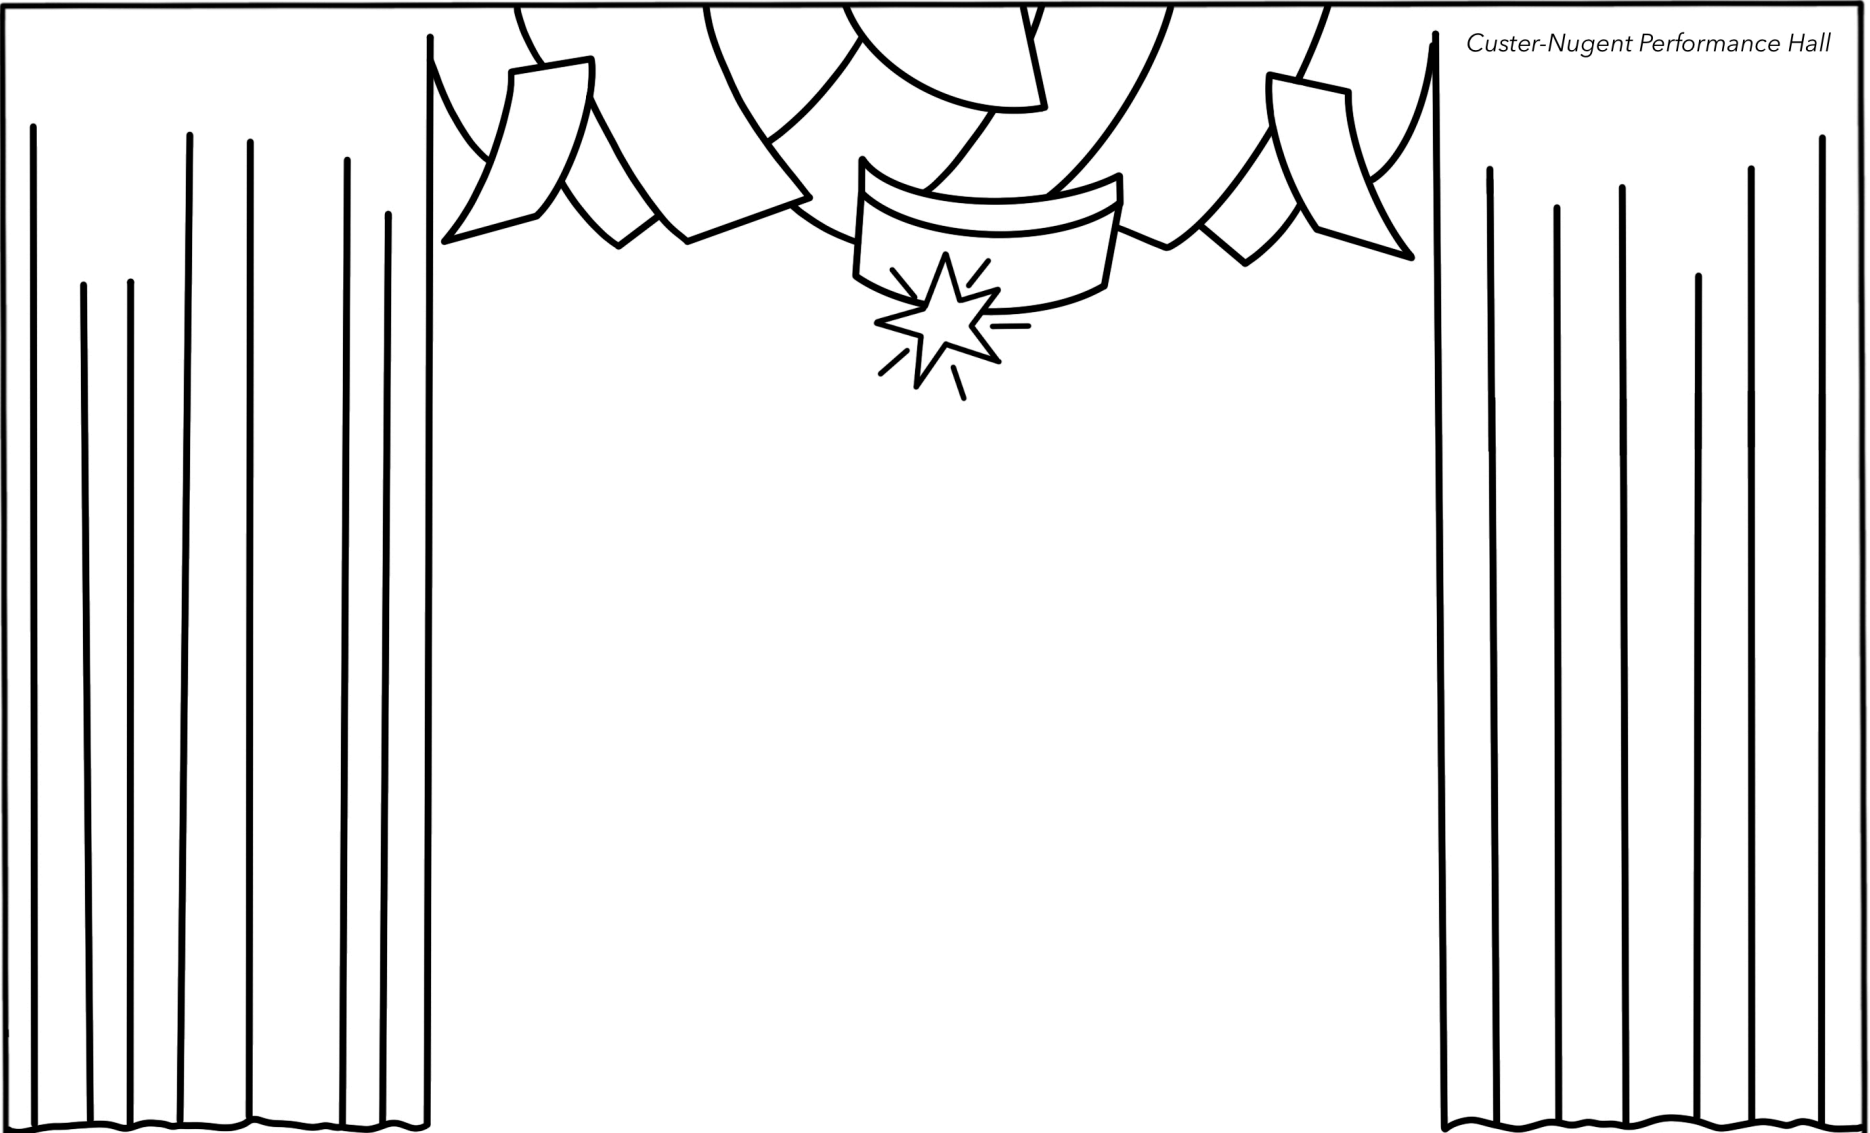

Chaos I by Jean Tinguely

Chaos I is a seven-ton, kinetic (moving) sculpture by Swiss artist Jean Tinguely. The 30-foot high piece is the largest work by Tinguely in the United States. Driven by twelve motors, Chaos I cycles through a series of motions to simulate a day in a life, beginning slowly at first, adding movements and then winding down again. At the peak of its chaotic movements, steel balls roll and crash through a caged track, making quite the ruckus! The work was commissioned by J. Irwin and Xenia Miller and Clementine Tangeman in 1971.

Flamenco by Ruth Aizuss Migdal

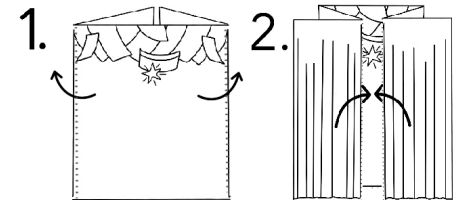

Created by Chicago artist Ruth Aizuss Migdal, this abstract, painted steel sculpture was installed as part of the Columbus Sculpture Biennial in 2014. A fundraising campaign by community members raised the money to make it a part of the Columbus permanent art collection in 2016.
